

National Departments System (NDS01)

Act No. 05

April 8th 2026

Authors:

Snowclimb

Editor: Aziumthal

Preamble

This Act establishes the National Departments System of Arx, defining the principal departments of the State, their general domains of responsibility, and the structure by which departmental work shall be led, delegated, and coordinated under the authority of the Central Council.

Definitions of Terms:

- a. Department - a formal state body entrusted with responsibility over a recognised domain of governance, public work, or national administration.
- b. Director - the head of a Department
- c. Manager - a departmental officer appointed to assist in operations, coordination, supervision, or delegated leadership under a Director.
- d. Member - a Citizen, Praetor, or other authorised person participating in a Department's work.
- e. Trainee - a person permitted to learn or assist within a Department under supervision, without automatic entitlement to sensitive access or internal authority.
- f. Trusted Citizen (Appointment) - an operational appointment granted under applicable law to a Citizen trusted with increased departmental or program responsibility.
- g. Department Program - a recurring project, service, initiative, or state function administered by a Department.
- h. Major Decision - a project, expenditure, access change, or departmental action of significant consequence requiring Praetorian summit approval under law or policy.

Article 1. Purpose and Scope

- a. The National Departments System exists to:
 - i. organise the work of the State into clear domains of responsibility;
 - ii. enable efficient planning, execution, and supervision of public work;
 - iii. support the nation through specialised departmental administration;
 - iv. provide lawful structures for leadership, training, delegation, and public contribution.
- b. This Act applies to:
 - i. all formal departments of Arx;
 - ii. departmental officers, members, and authorised participants;
 - iii. departmental programs and official work conducted under state authority.

Article 2. Departments of the State

- a. The State shall maintain the following Departments:
 - i. Department of Culture;
 - ii. Department of Infrastructure;

- iii. Department of Defense;
 - iv. Department of Justice;
 - v. Department of Economy;
 - vi. Department of Technology.
 - vii. Department of Architecture.
- b. The general domains of the Departments are as follows:
- i. Culture – Newfriend onboarding, Organising and Advertising Events, Oupism, management of the National Library, cartography, artistic works, and cultural projects (Map arts etc.), Propoganada .
 - ii. Infrastructure – Creation and planning of public infrastructure such as roads , rails , factories , parking spaces , Boat tunnels , Sewer (Ridable entities) etc. , Demolition and Digging , City planning
 - iii. Defense – Making and maintaining military infrastructure such as vaults, bunkers , iceroads , snitches , traps and so on. Defending the sovereignty and territorial integrity of the Nation, Pearling and fueling the pearls, Encouraging militants to join and organising PVP events.
 - iv. Justice – Overseeing judicial proceedings, Mediation between departments, Representing the Nation in diplomatic affairs.
 - v. Economy – Maintenance and creation of government shops and floating exchanges, Running farms for producing goods, maintaining and accounting for the national treasury
 - vi. Technology – Creation and research of farms , machines and techniques to benefit
 - vii. Architecture – Building , Decoration and beautification of Public infrastructure , Decoration and beautification of the city , Creation of non technical (vanity) schematics , Maintenance of builds , Upholding national building standards.
- c. The Praetorian Summit may assign, clarify, or adjust departmental responsibility by law or lawful directive where a matter overlaps multiple departments.

Article 3. General Departmental Functions

- a. Departments may, within their lawful remit:
 - i. propose, organise, and supervise public projects;
 - ii. administer approved departmental programs;
 - iii. coordinate official tasking, public work, and state initiatives assigned to them;
 - iv. Perform tasks on matters within their expertise;
 - v. issue internal guidance or procedures consistent with higher law and policy;
 - vi. train and develop capable participants within their domain.
- b. Departments shall remain accountable in matters of national consequence.

Article 4. Departmental Leadership and Roles

- a. Each Department shall be headed by a Head.
- b. A Head should ordinarily be a Praetor, who possesses demonstrated competence, experience, and contribution within the jurisdiction of the department they are appointed to lead, unless otherwise authorised by the Head of Justice
- c. Each Department may have up to two (2) Managers selected by the head where required.
- d. A Manager shall be:

- i. A Praetor; or
- ii. A Citizen holding a Trusted Citizen appointment for that operational role or class of role.

